Mrs. Jennie Daniels and daughter, Bernice Parker, and Mrs. Coburn of Lowell, Mass., visited Mrs. L. C. Jenne last week.

In the ball game Saturday between the village and Taplin hill teams, it was hard to tell which would have beaten if the ladies had not lent such lusty support. As it was, the score stood 11 to 6 in favor of the village. They do say, though, that it was really "Jo" that did it, though Hattie did her best.

BETHEL

Mrs. E. Llewellyn Knight Died Yesterday of the Epidemic.

Mrs. E. Llewellyn Knight died yesterday afternoon at Will T. Rogers', where she boarded, after a severe illness with grip and pneumonia. Her husband, Lieut. Knight of the army aviation camp at Camp Dick, Texas, is hurrying on his sad errand and is expected to-morrow. They were married Sept. 1 of this year, and after a few days' honeymoon Lieut. Knight went to his station and Mrs. Knight returned to the position she held formerly, as stenographer for the Bethel tannery, Inc. Besides her husband she is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Merrill, a sister, Miss Lottie Merrill, and a half-brother, Guy W. Merrill. The entire community is shocked and grieved by her death.

Letters received lately from Rev. Walter Harlow, a former minister of the Lympus church in this town, state that he has been at the front with the Y. M. C. A. for nine months past and at the time of writing, a month ago, was resting briefly. He said that in the thick of the battles, assisting in carrying of the wounded, he knew no fear while doing his duty.

Jesse T. Moody is substituting temporarily as rural carrier on route 4.

Thomas J. Lavere is running his barber shop again.

John S. Kimball came down to his store yesterday morning, but soon felt obliged to go home and admit that he was sick. His whole force of employees at one time or another, has been ill, but there always have been one or two left to keep the store open.

Edwin P. Fisher, who had worked several months at White River Junction, is now employed by the Bethel tannery, Inc.

Ernest M. Carpenter is at home for a few days because of illness, from his store in Claremont, N. H.

The railroad office is short-handed, due to grip, of which Agent H. D. Belval and several of his assistants are victims. Each of the well ones is doing extra work, with H. N. Senay in charge temporarily.

RANDOLPH

A quiet wedding was solemnized in the First Baptist church on Wednesday evening, Oct. 2. On account of the ruling of the board of health that no public gatherings be held, there were no invitations sent out. The parties were Henry W. Batchelder of St. Johnsbury and Miss Ella Vesta Sheldon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Sheldon of the Randolph inn. The parties and their immediate relatives gathered at the church, where the ceremony was performed by Rev. F. S. Tolman, pastor of the church, the double ring ceremony being used. The bride was becomingly gowned in white crepe de chine. The gifts were many and valuable, and consisted of silver, money, trinkets and cut glass. The bride's present from the groom was a Liberty bond, and the bride's gift to the groom was a wrist watch. The couple will postpone their wedding trip for a few days until the prevalence of the grip subsides.

Henry Cleveland died at the home of his son, Pearl Cleveland, in Montpelier last week Thursday night, after an illness of three weeks from typhoid fever. Mr. Cleveland was born in Randolph April 25, 1853, the son of Ira and Julia (Chase) Cleveland. He lived nearly all his life in Braintree, but for a short time he lived in this town. Mrs. Cleveland died about six months ago. Deceased is survived by one daughter, Mrs. A. Andrews of Buffalo, N. Y., and one son, Pearl Cleveland, two sons, Mrs. Clara Green of Roxbury, and Mrs. William Russell of Moscow. Five brothers, Edwin, Herbert and Homer of Moscow, George of Braintree and Floyd of Fitchburg. The funeral was held Saturday afternoon in Montpelier, and interment was in Green Mount cemetery.

Mrs. A. J. Wilson went last week to New York and will pass several weeks in the city and in Westfield and Redbank, N. J.

F. B. Wood has moved his household goods to Springfield and with his family has gone there to live. Albert Emery has moved from the Joseph Atwood house on Franklin street to Mr. Wood's house on South Pleasant street.

For the most part, all the patients ill with the grip are improving. Mrs. C. J. Stockwell, ill with pneumonia, Glenn Bailey, with bronchitis, pneumonia, and Mrs. F. A. Eaton are all quite ill, but are not considered critically ill, and are thought to be doing as well as could be expected. About 50 cases have been reported to the health officer in the last week, the most of whom are out of town, and it is hoped that the disease is now under control. The schools are expected to be opened on Monday, the 7th, if nothing new develops, and business will then be resumed as usual.

The Reason.

"Automobiling is not an uplifting sport."

"What makes you say that?"

"It seems to be one of those things in which so many men go under."

The Result.

Artist—Mr. Gibbs, I would like in painting this portrait to study your wife's face in repose.

Crawford Ranges

Success Crowns Her Every Dish

Of course you've guessed the secret of her success—it's the Crawford Range. Of the exclusive Crawford features here are the ones she likes best:

Interchangeable Coal Hods—one for ashes, one for coal, concealed, clean—labor saving, means one trip to empty ashes and bring back coal.

Single Damper, which "Bakes," "Checks," and "Kindles" with one motion of an always cool knob.

A Convenient Gas End Oven, equipped with improved gas broiler. This broiler is instantly adjustable to hold the food at any required distance from the flame without touching the pan, without bending over. It folds away when not in use.

Perfection of design and finish, long service and utility, distinguish Crawford coal ranges—or gas combinations.
